LOUISVILLE, KY.,
WEDNESDAY MORNING.—Oct. 30, 1860.

MASSES.—The officers of Fall City Lodge No. 376, were installed last evening by P. G. M. Charles Tilden, of this city, as proxy for the Grand Master, Samuel Hillman, also of this city, the Grand Marshal. The officers, as installed, are:

B. D. Neaseur, Worshipful Master;
W. E. Wootton, Senior Warden;
T. C. L. Johnson, Junior Warden;
John A. Pease, Treasurer;
John Hansen, Secretary;
John C. Johnson, Senior Deacon;
W. M. Wilson, Junior Deacon;
R. C. Matthews, Tyler.

P. G. M. Tilden discharged his trust with his usual dignity, which is generally recognized by all who know him as a man or Mason.

The newly installed Worshipful Master, D. T. Moncourt, on assuming the government and instruction of the Lodge, made a brief and pertinent remarks as to his own official duties, and also plainly established for his subordinate officers their duties, which he stated would not permit variation from. He will carry out to the letter this pledge.

THE MORAL SOCIETY.—A large concert last night, at the Louisville Opera House, was a great success, and a enthusiastic audience, of whom, if we were to say they were only pleased, would be paid a small compliment to their good taste and appreciation of some of the finest music in the world, performed in a style that could not be easily equalled.

It being a first concert, we must say we were hardly prepared for so great a degree of excellence in the chorus parts, particularly in the "Hear my Prayer," cantata from Mendelssohn, which we think was the gem of this evening. The solists were old favorites, and too well known to the musical public of Louisville to require special mention.

The Society intend, we understand, to give a series of concerts during the winter, of which this was the opening, and we can not too warmly recommend them to our friends as doing all that could be desired in forming and perfecting the musical taste among our citizens, and being at the same time one of the most agreeable ways to pass an evening that we know of.

THEATRE.—Mr. Collins delighted the audience last night by his exquisitely humorous and thoroughly artistic delineations of Irish character in the "Nervous Man and the Teddy the Tiler." He kept the house in a perfect roar of laughter. In regard to his collection of Irish comic we can hardly speak too highly. Mr. Collins has a voice of fine compass—clear as a bell, and seemingly under the most perfect control. He was obliged to repeat the song of Widow Maccabees, it being loudly cheered, on the first night of his appearance. We think no one else would ever attempt this song after hearing Collins give it with such energy and spirit.

LEWIS K. HARVEY.—A deputation of twenty-five persons will leave for Carlisle Barracks, Pa., to-day, where they will be initiated into the mysteries of the goose step and the manual of arms, or ride on a horse and brandish a sabre. Among them is Oscar Howard, a young man well known in the city, who has determined to be a soldier.

To the Democracy of Kentucky!

The Courts.
CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Muir presiding. Mr. Vasey vs. Kentucky, and the action of the disunion leaders in this and other Southern States, clearly indicate that the issue of the Presidential canvass are undergoing a great and rapid change; and that more minor questions of Federal policy will soon be, if they are not already, dwarfed and forgotten in the great and paramount issue of the preservation of the Union itself. That is the main question, and imminent peril, that transcends all others, and will soon be directed with frantic energy against its integrity, is no longer a matter of surmise and vague conjecture. It has become to every patriot mind a point of most absolute and painful conviction. Late developments have removed every doubt, and confirmed the worst fears upon the subject. The decision to be decided by the people of the United States, next Tuesday, is not so much whether the National Government shall be administered according to this or that principle of constitutional interpretation, or upon this or that system of administrative policy, as whether it shall exist as a government at all; whether the United States shall continue to be a nation, and a name still be honored, respected, and loved among the nations of the earth. In the issue is involved the honor, safety, happiness and liberty of twenty-five millions of freemen. Upon this depends the political and financial stability of our country, the most resolute and appealing form, civil, servile and fratricidal. We tell you the enemies of the Union are at work, seeking with secret but desperate energy to destroy it. Shall its friends strive with less determined faith or resolve and unwavering effort to preserve it? While Disunionists and traitors are putting forth the most constant and active efforts to accomplish their infamous purpose, shall patriots be less resolute and vigilant to cherish and protect that which is precious to them, as individuals, and sacred to them as free citizens of a great Republic? Shall we be idle, careless and cowardly, when the foes of our country are bold, reckless and daring—pressing on its destruction with impudent and unscrupulous energy? Never! never! never! For a moment's repose, a moment's contemplation, a different answer, were treason in itself. It would be to insult our virtue as patriots, and cast a slur upon our honor as men. We would then, in view of the high and sacred interests involved, of the fearful and momentous issues at stake, once more urge and implore our friends of the Douglas Democracy, by every consideration of patriotism, every plea of self-interest, every impulse and obligation of personal honor, to remain firm and true to their cause, faithful and zealous in their support of their candidates. The cause is that of God's sick, pale, patient, peace, safety, liberty. The candidates, Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson, are statesmen and patriots, every way worthy of the cause.

The let us, one and all, with unshaken courage and undimmed energy, do our duty to our country, to our friends, and to our cause.

LEWIS K. HARVEY.—We invite the attention of the public, and especially the ladies, to the card in another column of Mrs. E. Barlith, M. D.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning about daylight the fire of Mr. W. W. Summers, at the corner of Main and Shelby streets, was discovered to be on fire. The building and stock were injured to the amount of $800. It is supposed that an incendiary fired the establishment of revenue.

LEWIS K. HARVEY.—We have been unavoidably prevented from filling our appointments in the country, will not be able to address the people at the court-house this evening.
